Clay Guild of the Cascades April 2016 Workshop

Forming and Firing Raku Pottery with Michael Gwinup

Michael Gwinup has been a professional potter for 40 years. He is well known for his Raku fired decorative vases, lamps and wall art. Throughout the years Michael has given workshops and taught the process of Raku. His work has been been displayed in invitational shows, northwest art galleries, and is in many private collections. He and his wife Michele are owners of Blue Spruce Pottery in Bend.

Friday Evening, April 1, 6-8pm   Slideshow and Potluck dinner   All workshop participants and CGC members are invited. Please bring some food to share. CGC will provide coffee, tea, sparkling water, and lemonade.

Saturday, April 2, 9am-3pm   Workshop (bring a sack lunch)   Michael will show how to make and use paper clay. He will demonstrate various throwing techniques including making large pots using sections. He will demonstrate using plaster hump molds to create large wall plates, and show how he forms his large raku murals and trees.

Sunday, April 3, 9am-3pm   Workshop (bring a sack lunch)   Michael will be firing Raku pieces throughout the day - demonstrating the techniques he will be discussing. Beginning with Raku glazing and glaze making, then moving to glaze application and firing techniques. Finally, Michael will discuss the use of reduction materials and cleaning and finishing Raku.

Location: the Gwinup's studio located at 20159 Dorchester E. Bend, OR 97702

_____

Michael Gwinup Raku Workshop Registration Form:
April 1,2 & 3, 2016

 Workshop is limited to 15 **
Participants! Register Early!

Your name _____

Telephone # _____

Email _____

Fees Enclosed:

_____ $80 for Clay Guild of the Cascades Members
_____ $100 for Non-Clay Guild of the Cascades Members

_____ $25 Late Fee after March 25, 2016
_____ $20 CGC Annual Membership (January to January)
_____ Total
Make Checks payable to: CGC

Mail registration form & fees to:
CGC
P.O. Box 172
Bend, Oregon 97709

Questions:
Contact Janet Matson at 541 633-3403
janet.art@gmail.com